HOW THE PROGRAM WORKS

First, you meet with an experienced coach to learn more about the services available and for your coach to understand your unique needs. Then, after establishing the regularity of your meetings with your coach, you will establish an individualized transition plan using the dedicated service units. Once you start working with your coach, you have 12 months to utilize your units.

You can select the desired outplacement services on which to spend your units from the menu of service options (page 2). The CoManaged™ Program has recommended core services that include confidential, one-on-one coaching covering all aspects of being in a transition and unlimited access to ICC’s online technology portal that grants you instant accessibility to a suite of career tools.

Your Career Transition Coach will help you design a program that addresses your unique needs and interests and puts your career transition program units to their best and most effective use. The flexible nature of this CoManaged™ Program produces a program that will be tailored uniquely to you.
